HARPER HELD FOR GRAND LARCENY

Charged With Stealing Clothing of Value of $102.

LOOT IS FOUND BY POLICE

Police Seek Others in Connection With Robberies.

Dick Harper, 36, colored, 131 E. Wayne was held to the grand jury in $500 bond Wednesday when arraigned before Judge Jackson in criminal court, on a charge of grand larceny.

Harper is alleged to have stolen clothing valued at $102 from an automobile owned by F. A. Bryan, Columbus. The car was left in a garage and the police believe that Harper entered the place while employees were busy. The article taken are:

A woman's beaverette coat, value $75; one man's raincoat, value $10; pair of men's driving gloves, value $2. The total value of the articles stolen is $102.

FAILED TO PAY FINE.

Harper was arrested late Tuesday by the police, on charge of not paying a fine assessed against him in criminal court. He was questioned by the police and at first would admit nothing.

Police sought to fasten a number of hold-ups and robberies on him. Late in the afternoon, police state he told Detective Willis Kipper and Plainclothes man Joe Reed, where the raincoat could be found. He denied stealing it, but asserted that he knew it had been sold. Police secured the coat and after further questioning, Harper told where the fur coat and gloves could be found, it is stated.

He still maintained that he had not taken them but that two strange negroes had given him the articles to sell.

Some time ago Harper is alleged to have attempted to sell a diamond pin for $7 in a local barber shop. The pin may be one stolen from George Hooker, the police believe.

DENIES OTHER ROBBERIES.

Chief O. J. Roush stated that he has no evidence to show Harper's connection with a series of burglaries in the west end of the city. Harper has been questioned repeatedly concerning them, but will admit nothing.

Harper, has been residing at 131 E. Wayne-st in a rooming house conducted by Grant Novina, colored, who was committed to the Toledo workhouse Tuesday on a charge of running a disreputable resort.

War savings stamps stolen from the residence of George Mehauff, 121 N. Charles have been returned, Chief Roush stated. The stamps were thrown into Mehauff's automobile.

New picture of Mrs. Lydia Meyer Southard, taken at Twin Falls, Id., where she is on trial for the murder of Edward F. Meyer, her fourth husband. Her fifth husband is Paul Vincent Southard, who is standing by her in the trial.

MAY CONVICT HIS OWN DAUGHTER

Father of Mrs. Southard to Testify Against Her.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho. — (By United Press.)—"Billy" Trueblood, father of Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged "Bluebeard," on trial on a charge of poisoning her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, will be called to testify against his own daughter. It is learned today.

Trueblood, it is understood, will probably be summoned by the prosecution to testify as to what he knows of the manner in which Mrs. Southard made good her threat to "leave this town and go so far away that no one would ever find me."

After making an attempt to collect the $10,000 insurance on Meyer's life by making application for the money, Mrs. Southard suddenly disappeared from Twin Falls, the state charged.

BANK PROFITEERS ARE WARNED

Currency Comptroller Hits at Excessive Interest Rates.

CITES CASES AT CONVENTION

Useless to Protest Issuance of Charters, He Says.

LOS ANGELES. — (By Associated Press.)—Bankers who during recent periods of financial stringency have imposed excessive interest rates will "find it pretty nearly useless to protest issuance of charters for new and competing national banks within their territory," Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger today told the national bank section of the American Bankers' Association convention here.

The number of such bankers, he added, "is not very great, but it will do no harm for me to say that we have our eyes on these over-cautions ones, and that we are not much disposed in their favor."

MISSION OF BANKS

"The bank that gets advances from the federal reserve system, and only seeks to increase its profits by that privilege is not doing its part," Mr. Crissinger declared. "You are expected to understand that banks are a convenience and facility to business, not that business is the ever-ready support of high and yet higher banking profits."

"The other day I saw a report of a day's application for re-discount of paper with one of the federal reserve banks of the West. Notes were offered as security for advances of money at 6 per cent. Now, 62 of these notes were at 10 per cent; 21 at 9 per cent; 2 at 8 1/2 per cent; 14 at 8 per cent; 13 at 7 1/2 per cent; 5 at 7 per cent; 2 at 6 1/2 per cent; and 2 at 6 per cent. That is what is meant by bank profiteering."

CHARTER GRANTED

"An application came for a national bank charter in a small town where there were already a state and national bank. I looked them up, and I learned that they were of the class I call profiteering banks—and I rejected the new one."

Mr. Crissinger remarked that there was no evidence of "vast improvement in the general business and financial situation," marked by steady liquidation of loans "and a persistent increase in the volume of cash available for accommodation of current business."

Touching upon international finance, the comptroller renewed his recent proposal for the establishment of an international bank of exchange, backed by the financial power of the United States, to alleviate what he called "the chaos of European currency."

FISK IN TALK ON ADVERTISING

Expert Addresses Large Assembly at Luncheon Meeting.

LIMA MERCHANTS AUDITORS

Tells How to Get Buyers Into Business Houses.

Another enthusiastic noonday meeting was held at the Argonne Hotel Wednesday when James W. Fisk, merchandising expert, addressed Lima merchants on "How to Get People Into the Store."

Fisk attached great importance to advertising, in the local newspapers and circulars, and during his discourse he emphasized the personal work of the store owners, clerks and salesmen and the various "salesmen" who are to be found in stores in all cities.

Speaking of advertising, Fisk declared there are three essentials to successful efforts of the sort. First, each advertiser must have something to advertise; secondly, he must find the proper medium and thirdly, he must use it intelligently. Concerning advertising in general, he expressed his firm faith in the value of newspaper advertising as the right sort, but explained how it should be made really successful.

Admitted to be only a fair proposition. He said that too many merchants pay too little attention to this detail, leaving the ad writing to the last minute, then rushing it to the newspaper in a muddled and far from readable condition.

ADVERTISING TALKS

"Many merchants," Fisk said, "forget the fact that when they write an ad they are talking to several thousand people. He talks to them just as much when an ad as he would on the lecture platform and a good many of them would be ashamed to talk to an audience the way they actually talk to them through the advertising material."

At this point, Fisk, who is an expert ad writer and handles this important function for several of the largest stores in New York and other great cities, gave some interesting and valuable pointers on ad writing, submission of advertising matter and reading proofs.

The speaker spent some time with exploitation of the value of the personal element in store operation, speaking of the great value in a town of the size of Lima of window displays and also of the work the proprietor and the clerk can do to boost business.

Should be clean and fresh. A greener should not have decayed green stuffs in his window. There should be definite form to the display, colors should harmonize and every display should really mean something and be reasonable in all things.

MAILS AS A MEANS

Fisk also spoke of the value of direct mail to customers with enclosures of advertising clips sent out by many of the manufacturers of goods. He declared the store owner should comb his town for customers, making an effort to secure the trade of at least one member of every family.

"If you get one member of the family and continue to suit him, you will get the other members," he declared.

LOYAL FANS ARE NOT FORGOTTEN

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK. — (By United Press.)—This is an unconfirmed story, subject to denial if Mr. Volstead makes any inquiries, but unofficially the bootleggers didn't do a bad business a-tall up around the Polo Grounds last night.

What with 600 baseball fans lined up in the cold and rain with nothing to do but wait for morning—and doing it—it was only natural that some of our unacknowledged trades people should have themselves out this way with their wares.

The furtive-eyed merchants, on the lookout for the numerous cops, who sidled up and down the long line of fans with many a motion to and from the hip pocket, did a thriving business. Liquor, alleged and otherwise, was to be had by the drink or by the pint. Prices were exorbitant. For $3 a fan could get a pint of perfectly good synthetic gin right from Holland — street.

WAGE DEPENDENT ON U. S. SHIPS

Merchant Marine's Importance Urged Upon People.

NEW YORK. — (By Associated Press.)—Until America as a whole awakens to the fact that national economic stability is dependent upon the establishment of a national merchant marine, there can be no American merchant marine, Chairman Lasker of the shipping board declared today in an address before the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

Reviewing the work of the present board during its existence of 16 weeks, he asked the "patience and indulgence of the country," declared "America's economic life on the seas, for the next generation, is dark indeed."

UP TO ALL THE PEOPLE

"Until the farmer in Kansas, the industrial worker in Indiana, the miner in Arizona realize," said Mr. Lasker, "that the regularity and volume of their daily wage is, in a measure, as dependent on the establishment of an American merchant marine as is the continuity of employment and the wage of the dock worker in Baltimore or San Francisco, there can be no assured hope that the flag of the United States will be maintained as it should be on the seven seas. Sound economics accept as fundamental that national prosperity is based on continuity of employment at wages consonant with American standards of living."

"When surpluses accumulate, prices are demoralized and employment ends until the excess has been consumed."

"Generally speaking, the last ten percent of production makes the market and it is this last ten percent that we must insure disposal to customers in foreign lands. Except with a merchant marine under our own control there can be no assurance of these essential markets."

GEN. WOOD QUILTS

Retires From Army to Become Philippines Governor.

WASHINGTON. — (By Associated Press.)—Major General Leonard Wood retired today from active service in the army to accept appointment as governor general of the Philippine islands, thus terminating voluntarily more than 36 years of distinguished military life. His retirement was caused by insistence of administration officials that he accept the new post and the refusal of congress to permit him to do so while continuing his active army status.

In announcing the general's retirement, Secretary Weeks said he will soon select a vice-governor for the islands and expected immediately to commission General Wood to duty as governor general.

He announced also that nominations would be forwarded to congress without delay promoting Brigadier General Charles J. Bailey, commanding the second coast artillery district, to fill the vacancy caused by General Wood's retirement.

MAY PUT BILL OVER HEAD OF CHAIRMAN

THE LIMA NEWS BUREAU

WASHINGTON. — (Special) — A move to report the Sheppard-Tower maternity bill to the house over the head of the Republican chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, Representative Samuel E. Winslow of Massachusetts, took form here today and will probably bring Representative John G. Cooper back to the capital post-haste from Youngstown. Cooper is the Ohio member of the committee.

Members of the committee began arriving in Washington Monday and learned with surprise that Chairman Winslow will not return until late in the week.

CARTER & CARROLL

AID FOR JOBLESS IS DISCUSSED

Meeting of City Officials Is Called Wednesday.

Prompted by the pressing need of hundreds of jobless men, many of them heads of families, Mayor F. A. Burkhardt called a special meeting in his office at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon to discuss the problem of unemployment. The meeting was held in the office of Auditor Evan O. Miller, who presided. Present were City Solicitor H. E. Garling, City Engineer J. H. G. Garling, and officers of the Outdoor Relief and Unemployment Relief Association. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of providing relief for the unemployed.

Councilman Earl Rohn, head of the unemployment committee, has offered a solution of giving aid through expenditure of the $12,000 available from the auto and river improvement fund, and the use of money received in the Auto tax fund, both of which might be made available for use in helping the unemployed. The advisability of calling a special meeting of the city council Thursday night to direct authoritative action for unemployment relief was expected to be taken up at the special meeting Wednesday afternoon in the mayor's office.

COAL SHORTAGE NOT LIKELY

Industrial Depression Means More Fuel for Homes.

WASHINGTON.—(By U. E. A.)—There is very little danger of an acute coal famine this winter. Temporary fuel shortages probably will develop in many districts when these who wait until the last minute to buy coal, throw too heavy a strain on the railroads. That happens every winter.

Northwestern states are in most danger of local coal shortages. Bituminous coal output has been climbing since August 6. It now averages about 5,500,000 tons a week, or about 2,000,000 tons a week more than last spring.

WHAT'S IN THE BIN? How much coal has been mined this year. The Geological Survey's latest figures show that output from January 1 to September 25, 1921, is behind previous year as follows:

1920	100,000,000 tons
1918	50,000,000 tons
1918	145,000,000 tons
1917	114,000,000 tons
1914	30,000,000 tons

This looks as if there is certain to be a shortage. But the low coal production is countered by lower consumption of coal by industries during depression.

Household consumers use only 10 tons out of every 100 tons of bituminous coal mined. Industrial plants use 32 tons, railroad 28 tons, public utilities 7 tons. These three branches of industry have been consuming coal at a rate far below normal.

PLentiful Gas. Most cities that have natural gas probably will have better gas pressure this winter than for years.

This is because consumption of gas by factories is low, leaving more for homes. The more gas available, the less coal required.

The wise consumer, however, will play safe by having coal in his bin or use if the gas gives out.

From an operator's viewpoint, the anthracite market is better off than any other branch of coal mining—in prices, profits, production and sales.

Indications are that more anthracite coal will be mined this year than ever before. Output in September was nearly twice as much as in September, 1920.

Exports of anthracite and the best grades of bituminous coal have slumped severely in recent months.

OHIOANS SLATED FOR PLACES

Appointments to Be Made in Dry Forces.

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press.)—Important developments in the reorganization of the federal prohibition enforcement forces in Ohio are being worked out at conferences in Washington between J. E. Russell of Sidney, federal prohibition commissioner for Ohio, and Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes, according to a special telegram to the Columbus Dispatch.

The dispatch story says that the following appointments have been agreed upon and will be announced soon:

Chief of Field Force—State Senator Frank Norwood of Canton.

Chief of Permit Division—C. W. Rowe of Mansfield.

Group Division Chief at Youngstown, W. L. Benice.

Group Division Chief at Cincinnati, Robert A. Flora.

Chief Executive Division, George Copeland of Athens.

The dispatch adds that the only one of these appointments to which any uncertainty is attached is that of C. W. Rowe as chief of the permit division. Flora is the present head of the Cincinnati group and will be continued in office.

The special telegram declares that the appointment of Benice may be protested by the Anti-Saloon League.

A Yorkshire, Eng., laborer is said to have stored away 31,000 items of general information.

WATSON IS G. O. P. CHIEF NOW

Revolution Takes Place in United States Senate.

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press)—Republican leadership in the senate has undergone a change by means of a "bloodless revolution" senators said today. As a result, Senator Watson, of Indiana, stands as the actual Republican leader, while Lodge, Curtis, Cummins and Penrose play relatively minor parts.

There has been no change in the formal organization, which recognizes Lodge as leader. Curtis as whip and Cummins as president pro tem. Penrose remains as head of the finance committee. But Watson having assumed the reins for the purpose of getting action on the tax bill is now regarded as the real chieftain.

Watson's leadership came upon him in this wise:

He grew disturbed over word from the administration that an early adjournment of congress, for at least the opening days of the disarmament conference, would not be objected to. Watson canvassed the senate. Democrats told him if Republicans tried to adjourn congress with the program uncompromised they would be pilloried.

On Sunday Watson told Harding at the White House congress must be kept on the job. Harding agreed.

Watson, Monday, told Penrose the time had come to make out a program, announce to the country, and then put it thru. He urged Penrose to permit himself to be interviewed and formulate the program in the interview.

Penrose demurred. Watson then said he would make a speech to the senate, announcing the Republican program. Penrose changed his mind and gave out an interview, in which he said the tariff was not dead, Senator Lodge was still leader, and the Republicans were going to press for as early action as possible.

SAFETY COUNCIL IS PLANNED

Directorate of C. C. Endorses Protection Move.

CONSERVE LIFE, PROPERTY

Ministers to Give Talks on Fire Prevention.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have endorsed the idea of a Lima safety council, for the purpose of promoting general protection for lives and property in the city.

One of the first steps taken was a conference with Fire Chief John Mack, held Wednesday, to talk over what is needed to reduce the number of fires in Lima. Chief Mack is an enthusiast for the formation of a fire prevention club in the city which will work along these lines, but believes that the two organizations should co-operate.

As a result of the conference with Chief Mack, the Chamber of Commerce directors are asking the ministers of the city to devote five minutes during church service Sunday, October 10, to talking on fire prevention. The date is National Fire prevention Sunday.

COMMITTEE OF 15.
The directors are making a study to locate the best personnel for a committee. Permanent members of the committee will probably be the commissioner of public safety, chairman, chief of police, fire chief, city solicitor, judge of the criminal court and the superintendent of schools, with others who may be chosen to the number of 15 persons. Each is to represent some line of endeavor, interested in safety conditions.

The activities of the safety council will be largely directed along lines incorporated in studies made by J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, while in the east during the summer.

The council will not be a Chamber of Commerce organization, but will include any other persons interested in reducing the number of accidents or fires in the city.

Among the special activities to be taken up will be:
Public safety, traffic, control, schools for drivers, educational publicity, warnings to motorists on posters and billboards, public meetings of various kinds, devoted to safety and prevention of accidents.

Various groups and committees are to be formed to look after this work. There will be a traffic committee, schools committee, publicity committee, Boy scouts committee, Women's club committee, and others to be organized, as the need arises.

Very little money will be needed to finance the council's operations.

BOOST MISS WEST FOR ARMS MEET

W. B. A. of the Macabees Urge Her Appointment.

Two thousand members of the Woman's Benefit association of the Macabees in Allen-co are lending their assistance to efforts being made by 2,000,000 members of the order in the United States to have the supreme commander of the order, Miss Bina West, of Port Huron, Mich., named as a member of the national committee on limitation of armament.

"As a recognition and endorsement of the capabilities and achievements of one of the foremost women in the fraternal world," Mrs. Nettie M. Sullivan, 218 N. York, district supervisor of the Woman's Benefit association of the Macabees, said Wednesday, "Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Mich., is heartily endorsed for appointment on the committee on limitation of armament."

That Miss West is a builder is vouched for by Mrs. Sullivan, leader of the members of the order in this territory. "She is a builder of women," Mrs. Sullivan said. "She has their confidence. She knows their point of view. She reflects credit and honor on her sex and men who know her, trust her judgment and respect her ability. Perhaps very few women are better qualified than she to discharge the responsibility involved in this appointment. So long as the nation is able to develop leaders of this type, its destiny is safe."

Miss West is very active in public life and has been associated with many movements of national importance. She is the organizer of the Woman's Benefit association of the Macabees and has been commander since 1911. She is a member of the executive committee of the National Fraternal congress and a member of the executive board of the Woman's Council of the National Defense.

The well was to have been shot Monday, but with the quantity of oil found, it was decided to pump it a few days longer, to determine whether shooting would be necessary. It is expected that if this well proves a profitable venture, all or part of the operations will be carried on in this field.

FIRE THREATENS B. & O. TRACK

Flames Burst Forth From City Dump at Wapak.

SMOULDERING FOR SIX WEEKS

Fans Pulling for Miller Huggins, and His Team.

WAPAKONETA. — (Special). — That the electric and other property of the B. & O. railroad are in imminent danger of total destruction, is feared since the smoldering mass of oily rags, coal, sticks, wood and other waste materials in the city dump grounds, over a part of which the railroad tracks exist continues to burn, the fire eating its way toward the B. & O. depot.

Street Commissioner Howard has ordered a line of hose from a main and is pouring steady stream of water on the smoldering dump. Another shorter line of hose is being used to combat the flames as they break thru the surface.

Taxpayers of the city have been put to considerable expense by the steady stream of water that has played on the fire for weeks. If the blaze is not controlled soon it is feared it will undermine the B. & O. sidetracks west of the depot, and if that occurs the city will have a lawsuit on its hands, it is believed.

With the temperature hovering around 40 degrees, local sportsmen are hiking forth to reservoirs and ponds to hunt for wild ducks.

Local baseball fans are pulling for Miller Huggins, a former Wapakoneta local manager of the New York Yankees to top the world's series from the Giants.

Superintendent of Schools C. C. Nardin is making arrangements for the observance of Fire Prevention Day in the local schools, Monday. Floyd Weiler was given the maximum penalty when he pleaded guilty to stealing coal from the B. & O. railroad. His sentence was 30 days in jail, $200 and costs and sentenced him to 30 days in jail.

In session here two days, the October term of the grand jury investigated 20 cases, examining 46 witnesses. Fourteen true bills of indictment were returned the remainder ignored.

JACK FROST MAKES TARDY APPEARANCE

Jack Frost arrived Wednesday morning. Not in the recent history of Lima has there been so tardy. Not in quite a few years have farmers and the populace at large been so thoroughly prepared for the first killing frost of fall.

Farmers have long ago sheltered their perishable products against the coming of the Frost King. City residents were equally as well set. Records show that this is the latest first frost in Allen-co. Frost generally comes during September, but until the night of October 4, all freezable stuff left outside was safe.

"I have spent at least a thousand dollars in an endeavor to rid myself of indigestion and stomach trouble, which I have had for 20 years, but got no results. My stomach and digestion, together with extreme nervousness, caused me to lose much valuable time. For the last 11 years I have been a machinist foreman of the Kelly-Jones Co., of Greensburg, and my time was worth money. I was compelled to lay off 10 weeks not long ago. Doctors said they could give me only temporary relief. ST. ## CABLE PROPOSES PUNISHMENT

Would Penalize Steamship Lines in Illegal Traffic.

BRING TOO MANY IMMIGRANTS

Fourth District Representative Offers Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C. —(Special) Representative John L. Cable Wednesday introduced a bill heavily penalizing steamship companies for violation of the immigration law adopted last session.

As Ohio's member of the House Committee on Immigration, the Lima Congressman has had called to his attention hundreds of cases of immigrants brought to Ellis Island illegally by the "great steamship lines." Under the law, immigration of only three per cent of the number of former residents of any foreign country already in this country, is allowed. The steamship lines, it is alleged, have brought large numbers of immigrants to American shores in excess of this percentage, with knowledge that the limit had been reached. No penalty was provided for such violation under the original law.

Representative Cable's bill provides that a steamship company shall pay a fine of $1,000 for every immigrant in excess of the legal quota brought to this country.

The practice of the steamship lines in bringing in hundreds of immigrants in excess of the legal quota has made a mockery of the immigration laws," Representative Cable charged in a statement to The Lima News correspondent on the introduction of his bill.

"My bill will put the burden of ascertaining the facts regarding the number of aliens already admitted on the steamship lines and will put a stop to the present practice. Under conditions now obtaining, many immigrants are brought to Ellis Island, allowed to enter the country under bond, and then allowed to stay thru the pulling of political strings. As long as this condition exists, the immigration law will not operate as anything but a failure."

A Gentle Way to End Corns

The Modern Method—Scientific, Easy, Quick and Sure

THE old corn enders were harsh, crude and uncertain. They came into disrepute.

Then a world-famed laboratory created a new method, and millions have adopted it.

The new way is Blue-jay—liquid or plaster. One applies it by a touch. The pain stops instantly, and soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

To pare a corn and keep it now is folly. Stop it the moment it appears. Remove it in this gentle way.

Watch one corn go when Blue-jay is applied. You will let it deal with all corns after that.

Send to the drug store now.

EMERGENCY FUND FOR BUILDING IS CREATED

COLUMBUS.—The state emergency board has appropriated $20,000 as an emergency fund for the employment of architects to design state buildings, for which the legislature appropriated $4,000,000 last winter. No provision was made by the legislature for architects and starting of the new construction work was consequently delayed.

The board also voted $12,000 as an additional appropriation to Kent normal school, but made the appropriation conditional on the raising of an equal sum by the city of Kent for the institution.

THREE BRANCH BANKS FOR OHIO APPROVED

COLUMBUS.—One state bank increased its capital stock during September; one changed its name, three branch banks were approved, one bank was discontinued and two were admitted as members of the federal reserve system, according to the monthly report of H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks.

Mahoning Savings and Trust Company, Youngstown, was the only bank to increase its capital stock, which was raised from $100,000 to $150,000. Two branch banks were approved in Cleveland and one in Columbus.

APPROACHING PERIL

BIOLGISTS are expressing alarm about "how the United States is going to feed itself when its population reaches 1,000,000,000." That, according to Prof. E. M. East, may come "within the span of life of the grandchildren of persons now living."

The peril is world-wide. Population of the earth now is about 1,700,000,000, and increasing about 16,000,000 a year. One American to 16 others.

Van Buren Thorne, medical scientist, writes a book, "The Control of Life." In it, he gives these figures on total population of Europe:

1800	187,000,000
1850	266,000,000
1900	400,000,000

At that rate of increase, it would seem to be only a matter of time until Europe will be so thickly populated that every one will have to stand up when he sleeps, no room to lie down.

THE wave of alarm about rapidly increasing population, that now is vibrating thru the scientific world, would please old Malthus, English economist who died in 1834.

Malthus set loose a theory (the Malthusian Doctrine, that population at all times tends to outrun subsistence. In other words, that people multiply faster than they can be fed, and that famines and wars are necessary to keep population within bounds.

England, however, reports that she has more people than in 1914, despite the big death toll of the war.

Famines and wars kill many, but the tendency is for population to increase yearly. That must be a stickler for the people who believe that all of us are reincarnated, that we have lived before on earth. Since population is bigger now than in the past, where was the excess living 200 years ago?

POPULATION does NOT increase faster than the ability to derive a living from the soil.

Europe's big increase from 1800 to 1900 was taken care of by the machine age—mass production. Similar advancement will always be the case. Texas, according to agricultural experts, could be made to grow enough to feed all the people now living on earth.

Steadily we are getting more and more out of an acre. If the population becomes perilously large, all food will be grown in hothouses, future Luther Burkanks showing our descendants how to raise and harvest a wheat crop in a few weeks or even days.

A KING DIES

TIME works wonderful changes. Only a few years ago, had the death of William II of Wurttemberg been announced, it would have been the occasion of lengthy accounts in the newspapers in all civilized lands, but since William II ceased to be a king, his importance in this world of activity subsided in a marked degree.

The ruler of Wurttemberg abdicated in 1918. He issued a proclamation, stating that he never would endeavor to hinder the development of the wishes of the people. His abdication, along with that of other German rulers, was a direct outcome of the world war.

William II died a few days ago. The pomp and grandeur of his position as king having been swept away, his importance in the affairs of a nation was obscured. His passing called for only meagre mention in the newspapers even in Germany, where he ruled over a part of the empire from 1891 to 1918.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Speaking of preparedness for the next war, we are not, according to the present taxes, yet prepared for the last one.

A tired business man writes us that he would like to go somewhere on a long vacation where he would be cut off from the entire world. Why doesn't he try a telephone booth?

If the unemployed conference works we all will.

ABE MARTIN

The beautiful play, "Her Atone-ment," showed it a $1.35 house, at Melodeon hall, last night. The manager announces that after all the skirts have been cut off a couple of feet the company "it resume its tour." "It hasn't got my moan" critics read yet," said Mrs. Em Moon, when in- vited to take a ride today.

SKIDOO "PESSIMIST"

IT'S a meaningless word, that appearing as a caption above, the National Conference on Unemployment is agreed. "We must cease the word pessimist and certainly cease to be afraid of being called one," the advisory committee report to the parent body reads.

The judgment of the national conference is good. While seeking means to meet the unemployment situation, pessimism should be banished. So long as despair crowds out enthusiasm and pep, there's not a great amount of chance of anyone getting anywhere.

Having in view the meeting of a situation that has developed gradually, it is agreed that it can only be eliminated gradually by the compilation of essential information, long range planning of public work, mitigation of seasonal irregularities of employment and by permanent betterment of cyclical unemployment and depression insurance.

And while about it, pessimism and pessimist should be left out of the reckoning. Lima is one of the first cities to consider measures virtually on a par with those outlined by the national conference for the elimination of unemployment.

LATE FROST

THERE perhaps has never been a fall season in all history when the saying: "The frost is on the pumpkin, the fodder's in the shock," was more applicable than at the present time.

Ordinarily, first frosts make their appearance in the month of September, sometimes so early that unripened corn is wholly or partially ruined and various late crops of fruit and vegetables suffer to a greater or less degree.

The present fall has been an agreeable exception. Not until the night of the 4th day of October was there a frost visited over this section, altho on several previous occasions during the past fortnight, there was danger of the coming of Jack Frost. Almost altho the fruit and vegetable crops are safe from nipping freezes and corn, thoroly ripened, is no longer in danger of cold.

HEART

IN Washington, preparing for the conference to limit armaments, many landlords and hotels prepare to reap rich harvest of boosted rates. Much grumbling from the delegates, which shows that diplomats are human, after all.

If these diplomats will forget that they are thinking machines, if they will unleash their natural human tendencies, the conference will have better chances of success.

Sentiment as well as brains is necessary at the conference. A little heart-throb as well as brain pulse should enter into it. Disarmament is more a matter of the heart than the head.

GLANCES

SOME neighbors will borrow anything except the baby.

SOME folks should be more forgiving and less for getting.

THE pen is mightier than the sword and not as expensive.

MORE overcoats and fewer watches will be worn this winter.

EARLY to bed and early to rise makes you healthy and wealthy but not very wise.

MORE sensible than saving daylight is saving electric light.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE WISER MAN

Bill and Joe were rivals for a pretty maiden's hand. And Bill and Joe gave battle for the fairest in the land. But not with lance or pistol, or in a cruel fray. For each one sought the charmer in his own peculiar way. Bill wrote her pretty poems and praised her gentle eyes. He wooed her with his laughter and wooed her with his sighs. He'd telephone o' mornings, and the afternoon would find him hanging round her doorway, for he was the spoony kind. Joe's methods were much different. "I'm after you," said he; "Some day I'll make a fortune so you can marry me." And while Bill wrote his poems and spooned the hours away, Joe hustled at his labors and earned a raise in pay. At last Joe sought the maiden, and said, "I'm fixed for life. The home we need is ready, come on and see my wife!" And promptly she accepted, which made Bill an also ran. For while he was the nicer sweet- heart, Joe was the wiser man. (Copyright, 1921.)

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

Alfred Reeves, General Manager, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, Answers the Question

The average American is just as impatient now for business to go upward as he was last year for commodities to go downward. It is just that impatience that makes a nation like ours and when coupled with a little consideration and balance, it is certain soon to bring business back to a more normal basis.

There talk won't do it, however. There are certain fundamentals that will continue to affect business for some time, these in order being the taxes, tariff, and international trade.

We must have a tax bill that will be drawn scientifically enough to enable every business to have an opportunity to prosper. No one business should be taxed more than any other business.

We want corporations to prosper. I never remember the time when corporations prospered that everyone in the country did not prosper.

TARIFF Let us have tariff that will produce a fair revenue but not one that will simply place the burden of the increase on the American public.

This country with its present great productive capacity, needs world trade. We must expect to buy from foreign countries if we plan to sell to them.

We have petitioned Congress to lower the tariff 33 1-3 per cent in foreign automobiles. We expect to buy the cars of England, France and Italy and in turn, we want to sell them our motor products.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE This nation can no longer overlook its foreign responsibilities.

Just as city lines were soon broken down, and state lines became the main units; just as state lines have broken down where questions became of national importance, so now we must learn to think with the international point before us.

If we are to have the merchant marine of which we have talked so much; if we are to continue to be a power among the nations of the world, we must establish more strongly our foreign trade and those relations that go with it.

THE AFTERMATH The world war, followed by an orgy of spending, both of which threw everything out of gear so far as sound economies are concerned, could not but have an aftermath such as we are now encountering.

Nor can we expect this readjustment to be accomplished in a short time. The readjustment is constantly going on.

The worst is past and from now with sober thinking, with less government in business, with less regulation of how we should eat and live and act, we may expect a continued improvement.

People must be convinced that prices have been stabilized. Why could not we have a great "readjustment week" when everyone would readjust prices, to be followed by a great "buying week" that would tend to speed up the wheels of commerce?

We have petitioned Congress to lower the tariff 33 1-3 per cent in foreign automobiles. We expect to buy the cars of England, France and

An Open Letter To Mayor Burkhardt

You were elected to run Lima. Now running Lima does not only mean politically and in business. There is a cancer in Lima that must be eradicated and you as leader of this fair city must start the ball rolling.

Every day you read of girls leaving their fireside. The first thing that passed through the minds of 99% of the people is that the girl has gone to the dogs. THAT IS NOT TRUE, and I speak as a girl who has left home. I am far from being immoral and when you see me you will agree with me.

Have you ever stopped to think why girls leave home? Look into some of your best families and you will find breeding a cause that will eventually drive their daughter from home. That's the cancer. That's what happened to me. My father is superintendent of one of the largest and most exclusive stores in the city. He handles people by the thousands daily, but he couldn't handle me, and I'm not wild. Please look into this matter and save a million heartaches for all concerned, by seeing WHY GIRLS LEAVE HOME.

Yours sincerely,
ANN HEDDER

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

CLOTHES AND HEALTH

Next to proper food, proper dress is of great importance in the preservation and maintenance of good health.

Most people think it is the clothing that bestows the heat by keeping the cold out. The fact is the clothing regulates the amount of heat allowed to escape from the body. Of course, clothing does defend the body against the external influences of wind and cold, too.

Clothing, no matter of what material possesses more or less power of retaining a layer of air, kept warm by our bodies. This layer of air varies according to the fineness and closeness of the weave of the material used. Thick garments of the same material are warmer than the thin because they retain in their meshes a greater quantity of heated air.

Loose clothing is warmer than tight clothing, so also with shoes and gloves. With loose clothing, shoes or gloves, there is a larger layer of heated air between the skin and the material. The circulation of the blood is freer, too.

The material of the clothing should be such as to allow free perspiration from the skin. We sweat in winter as well as summer, but the sweat is in the form of vapor and is invisible.

One of the best ways to catch pneumonia is thru careless dressing. Both in summer and winter we have the tendency to overclothe ourselves, which is just as harmful as not enough clothing. Overclothing one's self renders the skin over-sensitive, so that when it is subjected to sudden exposure it is unable to stand it and we "catch cold."

To help make your body strong only the minimum amount of clothing that will secure warmth should be worn. Woolens protect most, but they require the least exercise of the temperature-regulating apparatus of the body. The wool becomes saturated with the perspiration, which it holds, to the disadvantage of the skin.

Therefore, woolen clothing should be confined to outer garments, such as overcoats, designed especially for colder weather. Fur coats make the skin over-sensitive.

Outer clothing should be adapted to the changes of the weather and medium-weight underclothing should be worn about the winter season. These are not comfortable in linen mesh underwear might wear light-weight woolen or silk over cotton.

FRANK ALBERT IS FINED $1,000.

Hard Liquor Found in Tea Kettle, by Police.

Frank Albert, 42, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at North-st. and Central-ave was fined $1,000 for having liquor in his possession, when arraigned before Judge Emmett J. Jackson, in criminal court Wednesday.

When the police raided Albert's place Tuesday night, they found a tea kettle. The beverage in the vessel was not the stuff that is poured when the sewing circle meets, but a stout brand of corn juice.

Albert admitted that he had the liquor in his place, but stated that it was given him by a friend and was for private consumption. He stated that the police had made five previous trips to his place and had failed to find anything. Tuesday they caught him with the goods.

NEW CHIEF ADDRESSES RED CROSS CONVENTION

COLUMBUS—Pledging himself to "devoted service" in the American Red Cross, Judge John Barton Payne, recently appointed by President Harding as chairman of that organization's central committee, succeeding Dr. Livingston Farrand, arrived here today to address the first national convention of the Red Cross.

He declared that the chief activities before the Red Cross are service to the men of the army and navy, especially sick and disabled veterans, and the child welfare work in Europe.

"In accepting the chairmanship at the request of the president, I fully realized the responsibility, but I appreciated that every American should have an abiding love and conviction for service in the Red Cross," he declared. "I felt it my privilege and duty to devote myself to the work."

Cincinnati Woman of 70 Tells How Aged People Can Benefit.

"I am convinced from my experience that Pepsin is a mighty good medicine for elderly men and women."

This is the statement of Mrs. Mary A. Mullen, 70 years of age, of 725 West Ninth Street, Cincinnati.

"For several days I suffered with my stomach," says Mrs. Mullen. "It seemed that I could not eat anything that would agree with me. Gas formed on my stomach immediately after meals. My appetite became poor. Then I noticed that my system generally was growing weak and run down. I suppose this was due to the fact that I didn't eat enough and didn't get proper nutrition from what I did eat."

"When I started taking Pepsin I soon noticed an improvement. Now, I am better generally and am convinced that Pepsin will benefit others as it did me."

Elderly men and women often need a strengthening, building medicine to keep them fit and well. All over the country, elderly people are finding Pepsin just the tonic and invigorant they need to keep them in good health. If you have reached an advanced age and are beginning to notice health troubles, try Pepsin.

Pepsin is a new system tonic which is now being specially introduced at Hunter's Drug Stores. It is also sold by leading druggists in Lima and nearby towns.—Adv.

SMILE WITH EACH SALE, IS MOTTO

Big Audience Hears Fisk, Merchandising Expert.

TELLS HOW TO SELL GOODS

Making Permanent Customers is Goal to Strive for.

James W. Fisk, expert retail trouble finder, visited in the neighborhood of a dozen Lima stores Tuesday and Wednesday in response to requests of owners to study methods and then to make comment or recommendations on conditions found. Fisk affords this service in connection with the Merchants' Institute, which he is conducting here under the auspices of the Lima Merchants' Association of the Chamber of Commerce.

As a whole, Fisk has found local stores in good condition, but he has been able to make suggestions which will undoubtedly work to the future benefit of both the owner and the shopper.

WOMEN MAKE COMPLAINTS
Complaints from the shoppers' viewpoint were freely expressed at the women's meeting Tuesday afternoon. The women present told of some things they did not like and Fisk promised to take up these matters with the merchants at the big meeting to be held Friday evening.

The talk Tuesday night on "How to Sell" was one of the best of the series thus far and about 350 clerks, department heads and store owners were present at the high school auditorium. Fisk declared the clerk cannot sell every customer who comes in, but a smile, a little tact and good judgment will sell ninety-five per cent of them.

CLERKS MUST SMILE

"We clerks must have the smile and the pep," Fisk said. "We must know by instinct when a real customer comes in and we should be able to size him or her up at once and use the right tact to win a sale. We must be on our toes, so to speak, and not wait for someone to come around and say 'wait on that customer there, please,' is Fisk's fundamental lesson."

"Be cheerful," he continued "and after a pleasant greeting, let the customer talk first. She likes to hear the sound of her own voice even if it sounds like a buzz saw. When she starts to talk, then you, Miss Clerk, should do your share. Just at the same time, don't talk too much."

"It has been figured out that it takes an average of four minutes to sell a collar and eight minutes to sell a shirt. But the live-wire clerk will beat that record. Doesn't it seem only reasonable that you should sell more than fifteen dollars or eight shirts in an hour? It does if you are a real peppery clerk."

GUILTS IN THE STORES
Fisk declared the attitude of the girls who go into the stores as clerks and have no thought of the profession, but merely regard it as a half-way station to matrimony. "Let statistics show me," he said, "that 17 per cent of the women clerks in the stores back to work after they are married to 'support him.' 'The Prince Charming,' Fisk said, "sometimes turns out to be a dud."

Starting a sale right was one of points Fisk brought up and used considerable emphasis to exploit. He admonished the clerk against telling her own troubles to a customer, but to have a regular smile—not an indifferent smile, no matter at what time of the day. "If a clerk is transpired in her own little sphere, the customer is the big thing at the moment and every effort should be made to make that sale. Fisk advised against discouraging customers with an array of a dozen or more articles, but advised the selection be limited to two or three.

"Too many things spread out on the counter only leads to confusion. Nine times out of ten, the customer comes back and takes the first article offered for sale. After the first three or four, the buyer doesn't know which she wants. The clerk should be able to know about what the customer wants and to offer only those things which she believes are wanted most."

HONEST SALES PARAMOUNT

"In this regard," Fisk continued, "we must use care, for I am a firm believer and advocate of honest sales. Don't sell a customer a thing you know she doesn't want or can't wear. Use your own judgment along with the customer's and when you have made an honest sale, you have made an interested and a satisfied customer."

HEALTH IS A WOMAN'S GREATEST ASSET

Contrast the cheerful happy woman with her own glow of health on her cheeks, the elastic step and bubbling enthusiasm as she goes about her daily tasks, with the woman who suffers from backache, headaches, dragging-down pains, nervousness and despondency. Such conditions are undoubtedly caused by woman's ailments which will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for many, many years has been restoring weak, ailing women to health and strength. Every woman who suffers in this way owes it to herself to at least give it a trial.—Adv.

"Don't lose interest in your customer as soon as you have made one sale. Statistics show that the average customer is worth a dollar to every store. And it's not satisfied with one sale. The thing a customer comes after. Tactfully produce other articles which your customer might want. When you make this second sale, you have shown salesmanship. The customer came after that first article and it was half sold before he entered. The second article was sold because you had the ability to make the customer realize the article offered was a real necessity."

Fisk closed his lecture with an appeal for honest methods by the clerks, the storekeepers, the ad writers and every department of the store. "As half sold before she enters to be of use to your employer and worthy of the profession of salesclerk or salesmen, you must keep the public interested in your work."

Wednesday night's Merchants' Institute meeting is to be held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 o'clock and is expressly for merchants. Fisk will talk on "Cutting the Cost of Doing Business."

The message touches the pulse strings of the merchant and should mean much to every store owner. Every institute member is urged to be present for real business progress will be discussed.

Estate Hot Storm

is a stove and furnace combined—two heating systems in one. It heats by radiation, as does any ordinary stove. At the same time, without requiring the use of an extra ounce of fuel, it generates and circulates a great volume of sterilized warm air on exactly the same time, without requiring the use of an extra ounce of fuel, it generates and circulates a great volume of sterilized warm air on exactly the same principle as a pipeless furnace.

50 HOURS FIRE on ONE CHARGE OF ANY KIND OF COAL

It's not necessary—not even advisable—to use expensive fuel in the Estate Hot Storm. It will burn any kind of coal satisfactorily—hard coal, soft coal, lignite, even slack. And so perfect is the air regulation and fire control in this heater that we GUARANTEE it to keep fire for FIFTY HOURS on one charge of any kind of coal.

Come in tomorrow—we shall be glad to demonstrate this wonderful stove.

It is a valuable vegetable for summer use.

Kohl-rabi is sometimes known as turnip-cabbage, but the taste is more delicate than either turnip or cabbage and the pungent odor of the conifer vegetables is lacking. Choose young roots.

KOHL-RABI SAUTE
Pare vegetables and cut in quarter-inch slices. Cook in boiling water till tender. Drain and fry a light brown in half butter and half bacon fryings. Sprinkle with pepper and serve. Use just enough fat to allow the slices to brown quickly.

KRIED KOHL-RABI
Pare and slice vegetables. Cook in boiling water till tender. Roll in dried-bread crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon water, roll again in crumbs and fry in deep hot fat till a golden brown. The number of vegetables necessary depends on the size. Two larger vegetables should serve for four persons.

BAKED KOHL-RABI
Pare and slice vegetables. Cook in boiling water till tender. Drain and shake over the fire to dry. Mash and season with salt and pepper and butter. Add a little milk and beat well. Put into a buttered baking dish, cover with coarse bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and brown in a hot oven.

KOHL-RABI IN CREAM SAUCE
Pare vegetables and cut in half-inch cubes. Cook in boiling water till tender. Drain and season with salt and pepper. Make a white sauce, using 2 tablespoons butter, 5 teaspoons flour, 1-2 cup milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper. Melt butter, stir in flour and add milk and cream slowly, stirring constantly. Season and add kohl-rabi. Cook three or four minutes and serve.

PARTY FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS
Little folks dearly love to dress up.

And so, of course, that is the thing to take into consideration when you plan their frolic. Since it's near Halloween the little girls should come in costumes in scarlet frocks with tall black hats and black wings.

"The boys must be goblins!" Dress them in brown, little blunder suits or dominos.

The invitations must read, "From nine to twelve," and the older folks on just this one night must graciously give up the late return home.

The table centerpiece should, of course, be a little children and little black cats should be at each place. A cat contest, in which the one who can name the most words which begin with "cat" should be given a prize, will help pass the time.

And don't forget to have a grinning black cat over the mirror in the room where the girls remove their costumes. Under the cat should be an inscription such as: Two people looking into a mirror at the same time must smile at each other to avoid bad luck.

Thus you see your party will begin and end with a smile.

HAVE WOMEN'S IDEALS CHANGED?

Read What These Prominent Women Say

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

EVERY now and then there is a flurry of apprehension. Someone says something to the effect that women are "different" nowadays. And someone else echoes it. Then it goes back and forth gathering momentum until it is a tremendous howl! And one wonders if women really are "different" with that queer, question-mark implying intonation.

Set out to discover the truth some day. Ask your nearest neighbor what life means to her, what the biggest thing in it is. You'll find she'll say pretty much the same as your mother would have said, or your grandmother—only she says it with a little more force and conviction. For she is that way today.

Mrs. Gene Stratton Porter, Limber Lost Cabin, Rome City, Ind.: The biggest thing that could possibly come into the lives of some women is public appearance and public applause. There are some women who have reached the height of their ambition when they have a lovely home, rich clothing and jewels. There are some women these days bitten with political ambitions and desire to hold office.

But, thank God, there still remain old-fashioned women who appreciate the love of one man, a home that they have evolved and the mothering of little children.

Mrs. Charles H. Dietrich, Hastings, Neb., Bryn Mawr graduate and first woman to serve on the Nebraska State Library Commission: My reply is that women always have and always will say—I imagine there aren't two answers to that question—Motherhood.

But women are realizing more fully the obligations which come with motherhood. The child must not only be trained, but the world must be made as fit a place as possible for the child. The suffrage struggle meant that realization and now with the vote we know we must cooperate for results. Thus we have the League of Women Voters.

Miss Elizabeth Blume, Newark, N. J. Attorney: Home and all that it implies.

Mrs. Helen Harrison Mills, Peoria, Ill., National Federation of Music Clubs: I believe the biggest thing in a woman's life is having something definite to do! Whether this be in the realm of the home and family, in a chosen career or in some one of the many causes does not so much matter. It is doing things that counts. Work dispels false illusions, enlarges the outlook, gives zest to life. The greatest women are always the busiest women. They establish for themselves a little world apart, where neither restlessness or discontent can enter in.

Mrs. Julian B. Salley, Aiken, S. C., director Third Region of the League of Women Voters: The love of my children and all that they mean to me.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

THE WIFE WHO SLUMPS

BY WINONA WILCOX

My wife is slumping and we have been married two years. She is getting dowdy and almost a stranger to me," moans a man.

"Why?"
"Probably she is at last revealing her true self. Marriage and maternity develop a woman's natural tendencies. She is at her best or her worst in a few years after her wedding."

Woman is highly artificial when first in love. She pats the lily and applies rouge to the rose. Her temper is sweet under stress, and if selfish, she forgets herself in "him."

Her artifices are not intended to deceive. As well blame the moon for its halo on a misty night or the western sky for its glory under a setting sun. These are bits of nature, and one may mean rain tomorrow and the other torrid weather.

It is just so with the startling if transient loveliness which a girl puts on when a man comes a-wooing. Unfortunately the man believes her in fact its glories foretell a change in love's barometer.

It is a wise bride who keeps her artistic instinct for drama alive, who preserves the romance of married life by constant study of the stellar role.

Consider two sides of this problem.

Writes a girl:
"I am 18 and idolize a married man of 35. He has shown me that our love binds us closer daily. I cannot go away and leave another girl to take my place in his office. I cannot give him up. He is a perfect gentleman. I assure you."

"I do not believe that a married man who makes love to a young girl is a perfect gentleman. So there's no sense in trying to send this girl a reply which would satisfy her, or any warning which she would heed. But she might get a hint of what her own fate will be from this, from a hint."

"I have been going around with a pretty girl when I should have been taking my wife. Honest, I don't know why. Now my wife says she will leave me. But I love her and I can't get along without her. I have tried to tell her how much more she is to me than the cheap girl who has hurt her so, but she will not listen. She says she's done with me. Tell me what will move a woman who has been wronged?"

Nobody knows—not even the wife. But the man might ask to be put on probation for a year.

This letter proves once more that the married man who makes love to a girl does not intend to break up his home or lose his social caste, or ruin his business for her sweet sake.

If the paint smell annoys you, put a pall of fresh water in the room which has been painted. The water will absorb the paint odor. Be sure to throw the water away immediately after it has served its purpose.

THOMAS MEIGHAN - LON CHANEY

Opens Today at the Lyric

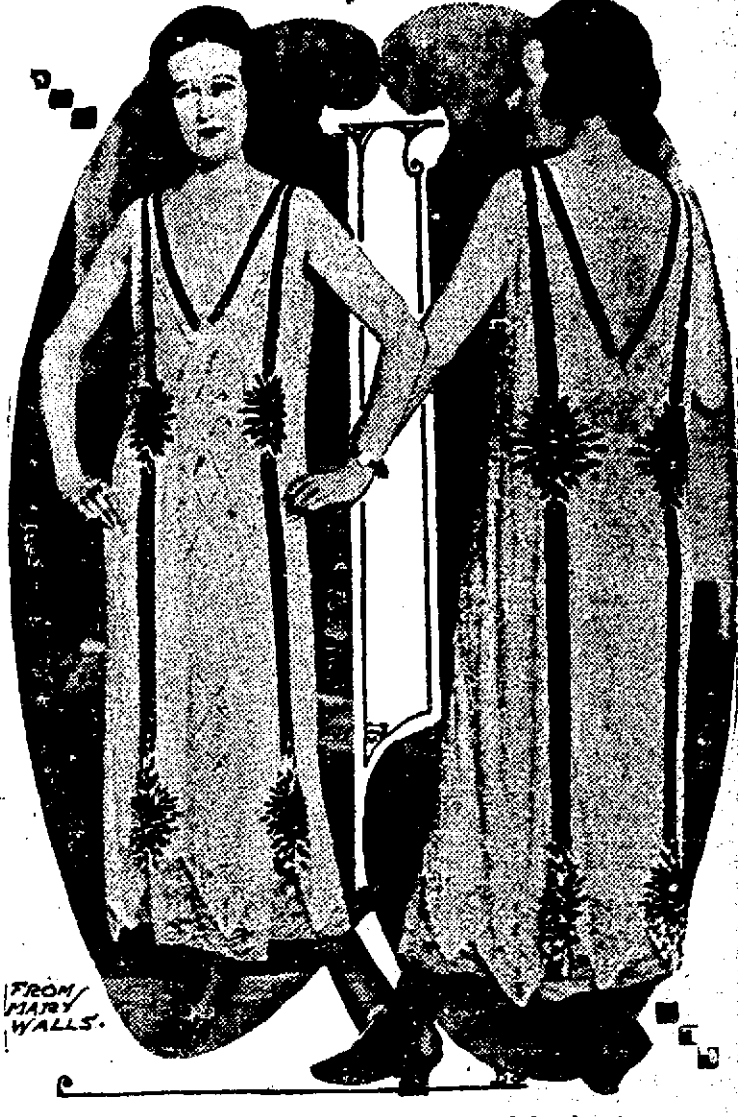

George Loane Tucker Picture One of Greatest Thus Far Produced

A superb dramatic Paramount picture feature, "The Miracle Man," which was produced by George Loane Tucker, starting today at the Lyric, is destined to be one of the really great screen dramas of recent years. It was written by Frank J. Backard and produced as a stage play by George M. Cohan and played the Broadway theatre in the season of 1918-17, where it played for many months. The screen version is said to be even more absorbing and thrilling in its development of the stirring story, which shows the marvelous transformation under the beneficent influence of an ennobling environment of four of the most notorious crooks of New York's underworld.

Hearing of the healing powers of this old man of the hills, Tom Burke and his band determine to capitalize them to enrich themselves. Little did they reckon that in their new field of operations they were destined to undergo a magical transformation, and this forms the basis of one of the most thrilling stories ever screened.

A cast of unusual strength portrays the exacting roles in the picture. Tom Meighan, well known as one of the foremost leading men on the screen, has the chief part. Others are Elmer Fair, Betty Compson, Lon Chaney, J. J. Nugent, W. Lawson Butt, F. A. Turner, Lucille Watson and Joseph J. Dowling.

THE GORGEOUSNESS OF SIMPLICITY

(By MARIAN HALE)

NEW YORK — The gorgeousness of simplicity is a seeming contradiction which is illustrated in this stunning, new, imported evening gown from Mary Walls.

Straight lines, even to the striking jet trimming, characterizes the French creation. The gown is a solid mass of silver-lined, crystal sequins and bugles in exquisite designs.

This graceful gown ends in point around the feet, the silvered lace of the underslip showing beneath. The bold jet bands, which run from shoulder to hem, are broken at the waist by sunburst effects, the same designs ending the bands back and front.

Dear Miss Smart:
I have some summer furs which I should like to clean. Would you please tell me how this may be successfully done?

M. S.
If they are dark you may clean them easily with bran or a little oatmeal. Heat the bran or oatmeal and rub it well into the fur while warm. Shake well to remove the cleaning substance. After shaking beat it lightly with a piece of rubber hose and then comb, preferably with a steel comb. White furs may be cleaned by the same process, except that they should be treated first with bran, which is a little damp. This should be followed with dry bran. After that has been shaken out of the fur, the moccasins should be applied, rubbing lightly against the grain of the fur.

Dear Miss Smart:

(1) Letters addressed to the Hotel Argonne of this city will be forwarded to him. (2) Questions relative to the movies should be sent to the Movie Editor of The Lima News.

MOBS SCRAMBLE FOR ADMITTANCE INTO POLO GROUNDS--BASEBALL CELEBRITIES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

(BY HENRY L. FARREL.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK.—New York today was westling with the problem: "How am I going to get into the Polo Grounds?"

With the world series starting here today between the Yanks and Giants, the baseball lust took a firm grip on Manhattan.

John Heydler, president of the National League, was pulling his hair and flourishing a sheaf of telegrams: "There were 11,000 boxes and there are only 1,400 here. How can I take care of them," he moaned.

The rooters were forced to the alternative of going to the scalpers or journeying to Coogan's Bluff and staying in line until the fog lifts off the Harlem river.

Every little detail for the series has been completed. There was nothing else to do but to open the gates and put the players in their new uniforms.

The umpires probably will get together today with the managers of the two clubs and decide on uniform ground rules for the series. The rules of the two leagues vary slightly on a "dead ball off the backstop" and the time for the home team's practice.

"The umpires have been appointed and every detail has been arranged. It looks to me like they are all ready to play," Heydler said.

Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, is established at the Commodore Hotel, where also are most of the baseball celebrities and out-of-town writers. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was to arrive today from Chicago.

The pilots of the two clubs were reticent today.

"Of course I favor the Giants but I am not making any promises," John McGraw said.

"I have faith in the Yanks after the way they came thru the pennant race, but the series is another thing. I believe we will be there," Miller Huggins pilot of the Yanks said.

Night Practice Is Resorted To At Ohio State

COLUMBUS.—Coach Jack Wiley, the Ohio State University football mentor, sent his gridirers thru the stiffest workout they have yet undergone, summarizing the first string of back against the second string line and O. second backs against the first line.

After this the full varsity was sent in to scrimmage the freshmen.

Night practice is being resorted to and work did not stop until long after darkness had settled upon the field.

It is rumored that new faces will be seen in the line when the whistle blows Saturday for the Oberlin game here on Ohio field.

After Ohio State

BEREA.—Despite the handicap of a rain-soaked field, the Oberlin varsity eleven yesterday afternoon began practice for its game with Ohio State at Columbus next Saturday.

A strenuous scrimmage with the scrubs revealed the varsity in first class shape. A large crowd of Oberlin rooters is planning to follow the team to Ohio field next Saturday.

Star Injured

BEREA.—The Baldwin-Wallace football team will enter the contest with Cincinnati next Saturday and all future contests this season minus the services of Quarterback Tubbs, who was injured in Saturday's game with Michigan by a broken collarbone and bones, suffering a double break of a leg.

Both sustained their injuries in last Saturday's game with Westminister.

Saves Regulars

CLEVELAND.—With two victories and no defeats, Coach Canfield of the Case football squad plans to use several substitutes in Saturday's game with Michigan to save the regulars for the Ohio Conference game with Ohio Wesleyan the following week.

FANS FORM LINES DURING NIGHT IN A LIGHT DRIZZLE

NEW YORK.—New York awoke early today to enjoy the initial game of its own world's series. Hours before the two teams, the Giants and the Yaukees, went to battle at the Polo grounds, crowds of fans from the four corners of the earth, were hurrying toward the park, hating to gain admittance to the mecca of the baseball world.

Some in fact, didn't sleep at all. At midnight several of them gathered at the entrances to Brush Stadium, the first in line and the first in the park—if they didn't fall asleep and awake to find some more alert fan in their places. By one o'clock about fifty of them were in line.

It was a cold night for the waiting fans. A raw wind, accompanied by frequent showers, brought out perspiration, blankets and even old newspapers to keep the enthusiasts warm. But the inclement weather failed to dampen them. They stuck to their posts like sentinels. Not a few brought their own sandwiches and hot drinks in vacuum bottles while others bought early breakfasts of "hot dogs" and coffee from vendors, who did a lively business.

The fans afoot were not the only ones among the early arrivals, a number of automobiles reaching the surrounding streets soon after midnight. Drawn curtains indicated the occupants were asleep, awaiting day-break and a chance to buy a ticket.

By the opinion of the bleacherite was any indication of the outcome of the game, the Giants will win. All along the line, the National Leaguers were favored over the Yaukees, yet those who supported the latter club made up in noise what they lacked in number.

They proved good debaters on the fine points of the game and this aided in making the time seem shorter until daylight. And as one fan remarked, "it helped to keep them warm."

OPENER WILL BE FULL OF SPEED AND DASH

The contest, starting at 2 p. m., will be one of dash, speed and resourcefulness, as exemplified by the Giants, against the battering aggressiveness of the Yaukees.

Never in the history of world's series baseball were two teams so evenly matched. Led by Ruth,

GIANTS WILL FIND YANKS' HURLERS TOUGH

The Giant hurlers probably will find the batting combination of Miller, Peck, Ruth, Mense, Pipp and Ward one of the toughest they ever have been called upon to solve.

Peck is always a dangerous hitter. There are levers. And the players. To be found at every race. But the staves.

HUGGINS IS CONFIDENT, BUT NOT COCKY

"I am confident but not 'cocky,'" declared Miller Huggins, manager of the Yaukees. "I am relying on the courage of my players and their general ability," said John J. McGraw, the Giants' leader.

Thus did the rival managers sum up their last minute opinions as the prepared to match their own wits and resourcefulness in the opening

YANKS ENCOUNTERING STIFFEST OPPONENTS

"The Yaukees are encountering the stiffest of opposition but it is my conviction that they will prove able to overcome that opposition, for I think I have the strongest baseball team in the world. A game, fine bunch of ball players they are, and they'll be out there giving the best they've got all the way."

The Giants enter the series prepared to take advantage of any opportunity that presents itself, but minus any definite plan of action, according to Manager McGraw. "It so often happens that a plan cannot be carried out," the veteran Giant chief said. "I have found it to my advantage to wait for the game to progress and to make my plans as circumstances seem to dictate."

Behind Mense and Pipp come Ward, McNally and Schang, and none of them can be taken too lightly. Experts believe the Yaukees' batting order is one of the most formidable in series history. And this is what Toney, Nelt, Douglas and other Giant mountaineers must face.

Then the Giants.

Bowling Alleys Open At K. C. Recreation Hall For Season

The Knights of Columbus bowling alleys in their recreation building will formally open Wednesday night for the season under the management of Bernie Halloran and Tom Daley.

Seven expert alleymen from the Brunswick Manufacturing company just completed overhauling the maple rows and have them in perfect shape.

The Rotarians open their bowling season Tuesday night at the recreation alleys when the Mer's took the Moulton's into camp by a margin of 180 pins, and the Starretts were successful over the Grindle's with 100 wooden men to spare.

The program of the Rotarians bowling schedule differs from other league arrangements, insofar as the number of bowlers on a team is limited to four men, three regulars and a substitute.

The four-man team arrangement is something new in team bowling and if it proves agreeable the schedule will be completed as it is, otherwise each team will add a pin knight and adopt the five-man team arrangement that has always been popular among bowlers.

Bob McClelland's last season's Pastimers and Ed. Oberlin Next

ALLIANCE.—Mr. Union got down to work Tuesday evening in preparation for the game with Oberlin October 15th. The purple is idle the coming Saturday. Casey will work his men this week to correct many errors shown in the Michigan game.

The Mt. Union team came out of the game in good condition. Not a man was injured. Not once did the purple take out time during the game. Casey is working on new formations for the Oberlin game. The freshmen were out Tuesday night for the first time. Forty yearlings responded to the call.

THREE KNOCKOUTS FEATURE LOCAL BOXING SHOW

THREE knockouts featured the first boxing exhibition of the Lima Gym at Memorial Hall Tuesday night.

The main go slated as a 10-round affair lasted only a minute after the gong sounded for the second round when K. O. Jeakle of Bradner, scored his ninth consecutive knockout by flooring Tommy Harrison, Chicago.

Jeakle started out with a rush and had Harrison groggy at the end of the first round. His fighting was aggressive. He landed lefts and rights consistently and plunged into his opponent all during the fight until he had him hanging over to the ropes.

In the first round he knocked Harrison down.

When the second round opened Harrison was weak and Jeakle lost no time in putting him away.

The bout was a fiasco. Harrison being a workman in a sewer here. He is a block layer for the Erie company. The med were not evenly matched, Harrison showing no signs of being a fighter.

"Pig Iron" Turner won a decision over Red Young. Both are Lima fighters. Turner permitted Young to lead in the first two rounds. Both put up a good fight and seemed evenly matched. Turner knocked Young down in the seventh round.

Kid Bruno, Lorain, failed to put in an appearance and his scheduled bout with Sailor Grant, Lima, was called off. Young Kimple was substituted to fight Hud Saye, Delphos. Speck Kessler's sparring partner, Kimple won on a knockout after a good fight.

"Speck" Kessler, fought four rounds with George Barnes, Chicago and copped the referee's decision.

Chuck Schuman, of Wapakoneta, was "knocked out" by Tom Andrews, Lima, in a four round curtain raiser. He fell over the ropes and rolled over on the canvas for the count. Just as Maxwell said "10", Schuman jumped up and walked out of the ring with a broad smile on his face.

Hiram Meets Akron

HIRAM.—Coach Tillotson's football team is practicing hard this week for the first annual home game with Akron University here next Saturday. Hiram clubs in several cities are planning to send delegations to the game.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—"Fair and warmer." Such, in substance, was the weather man's promise for today.

The Louisville baseball fan thrilled over the prospect of seeing the first game of the "little world's series" between the Louisville American Association club and the Baltimore international for the minor league championship, awake this morning with an eye single to the weather forecast on the front pages of the newspapers—and glance upward by way of confirmation.

With both teams announced as ready, the first game of the series is scheduled to start this afternoon at two o'clock. Central time, one hour after the big leaguers have started in New York.

The venture is said to fly at times at the rate of more than 100 miles an hour.

VON STROHEIM SPENT MILLION ON--ATMOSPHERE!

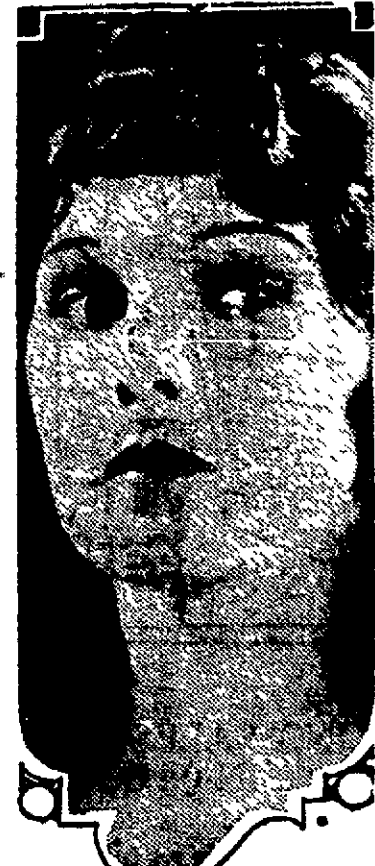

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

At last it is known for what Eric Von Stroheim spent a million dollars in producing "Foolish Wives"—atmosphere. There are no great masses of people as compared to some of the spectacular films which cost less to produce. The big scenes and sets are impressive, but they do not submerge interest in the story. Stroheim sought for certain effects never before seen in the photoplay and he seems to have achieved them. Take the ending for instance. Stroheim is the villain, a corrupted Russian prince in white uniform. He makes you hate him so that you wish the silhouet on the screen would come to life that you might hit him hard with a brick. He builds up a situation about himself that so nettles you that you want to see him killed. He is killed. His body floats out to sea. And the cat he killed to death floats out with him, its face at the side of his face. Somehow, you're glad that he and the dead cat are equals. When a chain puts over that effect he has done a great piece of work. There are many more touches that mark Stroheim as a genius.

The heroine drops a book. An American marine officer wrapped in his cape, makes a move to pick it up. The prince gallantly hands it to her. Both disdain the American officer. Later she drops her glove with the same result. She is on her way to a villa to meet the villain. She meets the American officer. His cape has fallen. He waits for someone to pick it up. She sees that both his arms are shot off. The heroine picks up the cape and places it about the American and then leans to kiss the wound stripes on his empty sleeve. That puts a burr in the throat and a film over the eyes. And here are a few of the little touches—A woman putting on gloves when she goes to bed to keep her hands in shape. A woman having her back massaged. A gambler in the Monte Carlo scene touching a humpback for luck. (The superstition didn't work.) With all its extravagance the chief merit of "Foolish Wives" lies in the little human touches the director has given it—and in that million dollar atmosphere.

Barbara Bedford. She's being starred by Fox now. She started in the movies a little more than a year ago when Maurice Tourneur was attracted by her beauty.

Leatrice Joy. She is playing a leading role in "Saturday Night" for Cecil DeMille. That may mean stardom for her, for DeMille is a creator of stars.

"A Wise Fool" with James Kirkwood. SIR GILBERT PARKER wrote the story from which "The Wise Fool" was made. The novel, I believe, was called "The Vagabond Master." It's a good picture and all that, but to date we haven't quite fathomed the point to be gained. You, however, may be burnt and have no trouble at all in getting it.

We'll begin at the beginning. Jean Jacques Burville is a wealthy miller, a noble, kind and a philosopher. The people in the Canadian town where he lives think the world of him and as a result, Jean Jacques thinks that the whole world should think as much. He goes to Paris, intending to give that little city a treat but it seems that he does not take to him like the good people of the little province town, so he returns home.

On the boat is a Spanish adventurer and his daughter. Carmen, who whines a lean guitar and forthwith captures Jean Jacques's simple heart. She has a sad story to tell how she and her father had once been of high estate but had fallen, and in the strange land for which they were bound they would be beggars. The noble Jean says that such will not be. Will not be, says the mother, marry him. Ah, says Jean (and you can bet that father will too).

For seventeen years things go along so. At the end of this time Jean Jacques and his wife looking not a bit older than when they were first married are discovered having a beautiful blonde daughter. Jean is a busy man. Madame is bored. Then comes the handsome master painter. There is a clouding effort. Jean finds out and there is a murder—almost. Following this, Jean goes away and has a hard time of it. Jean Jacques loses everything and his daughter marries and goes away. The only remaining, a bird seen with a bird in it) accompanying him or his wanderings until at last, it is the means of a reconciliation between the lovers. The ending is a happy one, with plenty of beautiful angle blossoms and the curtain playing "When the Angels Blossom Time in Northern" and everyone still as young as they were seventeen years ago.

James Kirkwood is a finished actor and his work as Jean Jacques is something to remember. Also Holman as Carmen is a first class actress and her dancing is charming. "A Wise Fool" is most pleasing.

MOBS SCRAMBLE FOR ADMITTANCE INTO POLO GROUNDS--BASEBALL CELEBRITIES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

(BY HENRY L. FARREL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK.—New York today was westling with the problem: "How am I going to get into the Polo Grounds?"
With the world series starting here today between the Yanks and Giants, the baseball lust took a firm grip on Manhattan.
John Heydler, president of the National League, was pulling his hair and flourishing a sheaf of telegrams: "There were 11,000 boxes and there are only 1,400 here. How can I take care of them," he moaned.

The rooters were forced to the alternative of going to the scalpers or journeying to Coogan's Bluff and staying in line until the fog lifts off the Harlem river.
Every little detail for the series has been completed. There was nothing else to do but to open the gates and put the players in their new uniforms.

The umpires probably will get together today with the managers of the two clubs and decide on uniform ground rules for the series. The rules of the two leagues vary slightly on a "dead ball off the backstop" and the time for the home team's practice.

"The umpires have been appointed and every detail has been arranged. It looks to me like they are all ready to play," Heydler said.
Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, is established at the Commodore Hotel, where also are most of the baseball celebrities and out-of-town writers. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was to arrive today from Chicago.

The pilots of the two clubs were reticent today.
"Of course I favor the Giants but I am not making any promises," John McGraw said.
"I have faith in the Yanks after the way they came thru the hard pennant race, but the series is another thing. I believe we will be there," Miller Huggins pilot of the Yanks said.

FANS FORM LINES DURING NIGHT IN A LIGHT DRIZZLE

NEW YORK.—New York awoke early today to enjoy the initial game of its own world's series. Hours before the two teams, the Giants and the Yankees, went to battle at the Polo grounds, crowds of fans from the four corners of the earth, were hurrying toward the park, hating to gain admittance to the mecca of the baseball world.

Some in fact, didn't sleep at all. At midnight several of them gathered at the entrances to Brush Stadium, the first in line and the first in the park—if they didn't fall asleep and awake to find some more alert fan in their places. By one o'clock about fifty of them were in line.

It was a cold night for the waiting fans. A raw wind, accompanied by frequent showers, brought out overcoats, blankets and even old newspapers to keep the enthusiasts warm.

But the inclement weather failed to daunt them. They stuck to their posts like sentinels. Not a few brought their own sandwiches and hot drinks in vases and bottles while others bought early breakfasts of "hot dogs" and coffee from vendors, who did a lively business.

The fans afoot were not the only ones among the early arrivals, a number of automobiles reaching the Polo grounds, crowds of fans from the four corners of the earth, were hurrying toward the park, hating to gain admittance to the mecca of the baseball world.

It was a cold night for the waiting fans. A raw wind, accompanied by frequent showers, brought out overcoats, blankets and even old newspapers to keep the enthusiasts warm.

But the inclement weather failed to daunt them. They stuck to their posts like sentinels. Not a few brought their own sandwiches and hot drinks in vases and bottles while others bought early breakfasts of "hot dogs" and coffee from vendors, who did a lively business.

The fans afoot were not the only ones among the early arrivals, a number of automobiles reaching the Polo grounds, crowds of fans from the four corners of the earth, were hurrying toward the park, hating to gain admittance to the mecca of the baseball world.

Bowling Alleys Open At K. C. Recreation Hall For Season

The Knights of Columbus bowling alleys in their recreation building will formally open Wednesday night for the season under the management of Bernie Halloran and Tom Doley.

Seven expert alleymen from the Brunswick Manufacturing company just completed overhauling the maple rows and have them in perfect shape.

The Rotarians open their bowling season Tuesday night at the recreation alleys when the Merit took the Moulton's into camp by a margin of 180 pins, and the Starlets were successful over the Grindles with 100 wooden men to spare.

The program of the Rotarians bowling schedule differs from other league arrangements, insofar as the number of bowlers on a team is limited to four men, three regulars and a substitute.

The four-man team arrangement is something new in team bowling and if it proves agreeable to the schedule will be completed as it is, otherwise each team will add a pin knight and adopt the five-man team arrangement that has always been popular among bowlers.

Oberlin Next

ALLIANCE — Mt. Union got down to work Tuesday evening in preparation for the game with Oberlin October 15th. The purple is idle the coming Saturday. Casey will work his men this week to correct many errors shown in the Michigan game.

The Mt. Union team came out of the game in good condition. Not a man was injured. Not once did the purple take out time during the game. Casey is working on new formations for the Oberlin game.

The freshmen were out Tuesday night for the first time. Forty yearlings responded to the call.

THREE KNOCKOUTS FEATURE LOCAL BOXING SHOW

THREE knockouts featured the first boxing exhibition of the Lima Gym at Memorial Hall Tuesday night.

The main go slated as a 10-round affair lasted only a minute after the gong sounded for the second round when K. O. Jeakle of Bradner, scored his ninth consecutive knockout by flooring Tommy Harrison, Chicago.

Jeakle started out with a rush and had Harrison groggy at the end of the first round. His fighting was aggressive. He landed lefts and rights consistently and plunged into his opponent all during the fight until he had him hanging over to the ropes.

In the first round he knocked Harrison down.

When the second round opened Harrison was weak and Jeakle lost no time in putting him away.

The bout was a fiasco. Harrison being a workman in a sewer. He is a block layer for the Erie company. The men were not even matched, Harrison showing no signs of being a fighter.

"Pig Iron" Turner won a decision over Red Young. Both are Lima fighters. Turner permitted Young to lead in the first two rounds. Both put up a good fight and seemed evenly matched. Turner knocked Young down in the seventh round.

Kid Bruno, Lorain, failed to put in an appearance and his schedule bout with Sailor Grant, Lima, was called off. Young Kimble was substituted to fight Bud Saye, Delphos. Speck Kessler's spare partner, Kimble won on a knockout after a good fight.

"Speck" Kessler, Delphos, John Newton's protegee, fought four rounds with George Barnes, Chicago, and copped the referee's decision.

Chuck Schuman, of Wapakoneta was "knocked out" by Tom Andrews, Lima, in a four round curtain raiser. He fell over the ropes and rolled over on the canvas. "10", Schuman jumped up and walked out of the ring with a broad smile on his face.

CHICAGO — Chicago was prepared today for the opening game of the series to decide the championship of the city between the Chicago clubs of the National and American Leagues.

With fair and warmer weather in prospect, the local rivals meet for the first time since 1916 and enthusiasm, which has been at a high pitch, was represented in a substantial way by the thousands anxious for seats at Comiskey Park, where the series opens.

Red Faber for the White Sox and Speed Martin for the Cubs are regarded as the probable pitchers. Grover Alexander, the Nationals' ace, it was said, would be saved for the opening game on the Cubs grounds.

Minor League Clubs Off On Their Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — "Fair and warmer." Such, in substance, was the weather man's promise for today.

The Louisville baseball fan thrilled over the prospect of seeing the first game of the "little world's series" between the Louisville American Association club and the Baltimore International for the minor league championship, awake this morning with an eye single to the weather forecast on the front pages of the newspapers—and glance upward by way of confirmation.

With both teams announced as ready, the first game of the series is scheduled to start this afternoon at two o'clock. Central time, one hour after the big leaguers have started in New York.

The vulture is said to fly at times at the rate of more than 100 miles an hour.

Night Practice Is Resorted To At Ohio State

COLUMBUS — Coach Jack Wiley, the Ohio State University football mentor, sent his gridirers thru the stiffest workout they have yet undergone, scrimmaging the first string of back against the second string line and the second backs against the first line.

After this the full varsity was sent in to scrimmage the freshmen.

Night practice is being resorted to and work did not stop until long after darkness had settled upon the field. It is rumored that new faces will be seen in the lineup when the whistle blows Saturday for the Oberlin game here on Ohio field.

After Ohio State

OBERLIN.—Despite the handicap of a rain-soaked field, the Oberlin varsity eleven yesterday afternoon began practice for its game with Ohio State at Columbus next Saturday.

A strenuous scrimmage with the scrubs revealed the varsity in real class shape. A large crowd of Oberlin rooters is planning to follow the team to Ohio field next Saturday.

Star Injured

BEREA — The Baldwin-Wallace football team will enter the contest with Cincinnati next Saturday, and all future contests this season minus the services of Quarterback Thurgood, who was injured in Saturday's game with Michigan in saving the regulars for the Ohio Conference game with Ohio Wesleyan the following week. The regular backs did not participate in yesterday's hard practice.

Saves Regulars

CLEVELAND — With two victories and no defeats, Coach Canfield of the Case football squad plans to use several substitutes in Saturday's game with Michigan to save the regulars for the Ohio Conference game with Ohio Wesleyan the following week. The regular backs did not participate in yesterday's hard practice.

VON STROHEIM SPENT MILLION ON--ATMOSPHERE!

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

At last it is known for what Eric Von Stroheim spent a million dollars in producing "Foolish Wives"—atmosphere. There are no great masses of people as compared to some of the spectacle films which cost less to produce. The big scenes and sets are impressive, but they do not submerge interest in the story. Stroheim sought for certain effects never before seen in the photoplay and he seems to have achieved them. Take the ending for instance. Stroheim is the villain, a corseted Russian prince in white uniform. He makes you hate him so that you wish the silhouette on the screen would come to life that you might hit him hard with a brick. He builds up a situation about himself that so settles you that you want to see him killed. He is killed. His body floats out to sea. And the cat he kicked to death floats out with him, its face at the side of his face. Somehow, you're glad that he and the dead cat are equals. When a villain puts over that effect he has done a great piece of work. There are many more touches that mark Stroheim as a genius.

The heroine drops a book. An American marine officer wrapped in his cape, makes no move to pick it up. The prince gallantly hands it to her. Both disdain the American officer. Later she drops her glove with the same result. She is on her way to a villa to meet the villain. She meets the American officer. His cape has fallen. He waits for someone to pick it up. She sees that both his arms are shot off. The heroine picks up the cape and places it about the American and then leans to kiss the wound stripes on his empty sleeve. That puts a burr in the throat and a film over the eyes. And here are a few of the little touches:— A woman putting on gloves when she goes to bed to keep her hands in shape. A woman having her back massaged. A gambler in the Monte Carlo scene touching a humpback for luck. (The superstition didn't work.) With all its extravagance the chief merit of "Foolish Wives" lies in the little human touches the director has given it—and in that million dollar atmosphere.

Barbara Bedford. She's being starred by Fox now. She started in the movies a little more than a year ago when Maurice Tourneur was attracted by her beauty.

Leatrice Joy. She is playing a leading role in "Saturday Night" for Cecil DeMille. That may mean stardom for her, for DeMille is a creator of stars.

CHIEF ROUSH GETS FIRST CANDY

Observance of National Candy Day Launched in Lima.

Chief of Police Roush ate the first stick of candy given away in Public square Wednesday afternoon, preliminary to the observance of National Candy day. A truck load was distributed to the school children of the city, commencing at 4:30 p. m. A detail of policemen and Boy Scouts kept the boys and girls lined up on both sides of the mammoth truck, piled high with sweets. Each boy and girl was provided with a ticket, entitling her or she to a big stick, with stripes like a barber pole. Earlier in the day candy was distributed by "Y" girls at the children's Home, Day Nursery—and in the first and second grades of the public and parochial schools. Children in the upper grades were given tickets, good to be exchanged at the truck in the square. Thursday 500 balloons with tags good each for a box of candy at the Chamber of Commerce will be tossed from the top of the Cincinnati block.

Jamaica ginger was the cause of Henry Herman, 43, painter, appearing in criminal court Wednesday on a charge of intoxication. Officer Kalt discovered the man against a lamp post on N. Union and booked him at the station. "What were you drinking?" asked the court. "Jamaica ginger, your Honor," Herman said. "I came over here from Coldwater and bought some in a drug store." "If you are from Coldwater, that's what you should have been drinking," in place of Jamaica ginger," he was told. Herman paid a $15 fine and agreed to stick to the beverage for which his home town is named, in the future.

"A Wise Fool" with James Kirkwood

SIR GILBERT PARKER wrote the story from which "The Wise Fool" was made. The novel, I believe, was called "The Money Master." It's a good picture and all that, but to date we haven't quite fathomed the point to be gained. You, however, may be bright and have no trouble at all in getting it. We'll begin at the beginning. Jean Jacques Barbillie is a wealthy miller, lovable, kind and a philosopher. The people in the Canadian town where he lives think the world of him and as a result, Jean Jacques thinks that the whole world should think as much. He goes to Paris, intending to give the little city a treat but it seems they do not take him like the good people of the little province town, so he returns home. On the boat is a Spanish adventurer and his daughter, Carmen, who whangs a mean guitar and forthwith captures Jean Jacques's simple heart. She has a father story to tell, how she and her father had once been of high estate but had fallen, and in the strange land for which they were bound they would be beggars. The noble Jean says that such will not be. Will not the Spanish maiden marry him? Ah, will she! (And you can bet that father will, too.) For seventeen years things go along as such. At the end of this time Jean Jacques and his wife, looking not a bit older than when they were first married, are discovered having a beautiful blonde daughter. Jean is a busy man. Madame is bored. Then comes the handsome master carpenter. There is a clandestine affair. Jean finds out and there is a wonderful almost. Following this, Jean goes away and has a hard time of it. Jean Jacques loves everything and his daughter marries and goes away. His only possession, a bird cage (with a bird in it) accompanying him on his wanderings. Until, at last, it is the means of a reconciliation between the lovers. The ending is a happy one, with a number of beautiful people, big scenes and the grand playing. "The Wise Fool" is most pleasing.

James Kirkwood is a finished actor and his work as Jean Jacques is something to remember. Alice Holman as Carmen is alright after she has been of high estate but had fallen, and in the strange land for which they were bound they would be beggars. The noble Jean says that such will not be. ## SHORT SHAVINGS

Elmer Roberts tells of a man who rented a shuff at Lake View. He showed up in the shuff to wave to a girl on shore and waved himself out of the shuff into the lake.

Fred Hammer, coal dealer and rifle expert says two dogs are lost from house on his street. He adds that the two have an aggregate value of $51.25.

"One worth $50," he says. "I value my own at $1.25."

Charles Rosenblum, Indian motorcycle dealer, is so accustomed to thrusting out his hand while stopping his motorcycle that he did it when a street car on which he was riding stopped suddenly. "I poked a man riding beside me," says Charley, "and I don't think he liked it."
